

About Us

One + Five = Synergy

As I began to set up my new firm I realized that my clients needed more than a solo practitioner – they would need a solo connected to other equally experienced, trust-worthy attorneys with complementary areas of competence. From this initial concept came the current firm which includes five special counsel skilled in areas ranging from corporate ethics to trusts and estates.

One-Stop Shopping

For my clients it means one phone call to access vetted, trusted, known attorneys who can handle problems in the areas in which they specialize. It assures my clients of top quality advice and service whatever their problems may be.
